

Homeschoolers Receive South West Youth Symphony Director's Award

For two years in a row two musicians have received the Director's Award from Mr. Arthur, the concert band conductor from South West Youth Symphony.

2004 - Andrew Stem, an 8th grade saxophone player, received the award.

2005 - Mareike Davis, an 8th grade trumpet player, received the award.

The award is given to an exemplary band member and includes a waiver of band tuition for the coming year ($170).
